

In this day and age kids are faced with so much pressure in the world to do things that may have a good outcome or a bad outcome such as deciding which High school to go to or helping your family these are all examples of good outcomes. But there are also bad outcomes things like drinking alcohol or doing dangerous drugs. But these bad outcomes of poor decisions can mess up your life. But as for me I have seen the bad out comes of these poor choices and it has defiantly made me realize how evil these things can be and how they can affect not only you but the people around your like family and friends. Even before Rory Weichbrod was killed by a drunk driver I knew about the danger and evil of drinking and driving. Because the year my parents were married my uncle was arrested for drinking and driving, and driving he crashed into another car. Fortunately, the other person was not hurt badly. In the state of Arizona where my uncle lived, if you drive drunk and get into an accident- it is considered assault with a deadly weapon, because that is how bad drinking and driving is. I never knew him until I was four years old when he was released from prison. And even before that my great grandfather was also an extreme smoker and alcoholic who died very young. I believe my uncle and great grandfather's actions are a warning to me. But there are also some good role models to follow in my family. One great man is my great great grandfather Michael F. Quinn Sr. he never drank a sip of alcohol in his life except for the blood of Christ at church and he died a natural death at the age of 99 years. He is a great role model to follow also because he gave to charities and loved his family and children.

I want to make good decisions in my teenage life is because when I grow up I want to be a Roman Catholic Priest. Just recently this year I have realized that God has called me to serve him. In this revelation I must have good behavior to all and not to be sucked into things like drinking excessively or doing drugs that can have life shattering affects. In I see people each day who are begging to make poor choices in their youth d and it is because they are not educated in the dangers of these things. I have many ideas on how to educate people these things. As a student I can't do as much as I would like to do but I will do as much as I can to help by doing things like having teens helping out with their school, neighborhood and church. What I am planning on starting is an altar server society for all catholic young boys and girls which will bring all parishes with altar servers together and set a standard of serving this is a way to bring kids away from drugs and alcohol and closer to God and Jesus. By doing this I think that teens will have a more reverence to God and to others while either on the altar or off the altar in their daily lives. As an adult I will help by setup counseling and if I am a priest setup a prayer rehabilitation group for people suffering from alcoholism and raise money in my parish to give to RJW unfinished business Inc.

I have many feelings toward people who do these terrible drugs and drive drunk or people who may have been killed or injured like Rory and his friend were. The police and other types of law enforcement officer should do more to stop people like this. Putting officers on blocks where there are many bars and clubs is one way. This is just an idea as it would be very hard to do. Another way is to have people go into schools and talk to kids about how bad these things really are. We are lucky because at Saint John the Baptist we are educated on this stuff. This is what I truly feel needs to be done so that Rory himself is looking down at RJW Inc. and saying this is what I really wanted. With Jesus's help we will accomplish it. Thank you RJW Unfinished business Inc.
